

UPLAND'S CHANGING FACE

CITY GOVERNMENT ONCE SIMPLE NOW COMPLEX

City Hall today

City Hall tomorrow

By JENNY KIRKPATRICK

(This is the second in a series exploring the "Changing Face Of Upland: Rural To Urban Community.")

In a rural community the government is relatively simple, for one thing the population is usually low and most everyone is engaged in agriculture or work related to it, these facts tend to make interests and problems of the people the same.

If you wanted to talk to the mayor or a councilman, you would have only to ride a horse over to where he lived and worked and discuss your problem. Those that governed lived and worked in the area.

Government, in an urban situation is complex, the population is larger and more diversified as to tastes, work and homes, the problems of the city are not always common and this causes decisions to have to be made that some citizens will not like, which in turn breeds "axe grinding".

The government faces decisions that are brought to their council table by pressure groups and often expediency tips the scales. Citizens' moods change and shift overnight and it takes a lot of time and study to sense these moods and evaluate them on what is best for all. It is not always a simple matter to contact a mayor or councilman.

GENERAL LAW CITY

Upland has always been a general law city rather than having its own charter. Its government is ruled to a degree by the statutes of the state. This in a sense is better to work with since the statutes are a little broader than a written charter that requires red tape to be changed.

The city has a council-manager form of government with a five man council who elects one of its members as mayor. (This may change as the elected mayor issue is on the April 14 ballot.) The city manager is appointed by the council. It is up to the council to set the tax rate, approve the budget, set the salaries and make appointments.

The city manager, hires and fires personnel, and coordinates the departments in the city and carries out the policies of the council. Upland has had only two city managers, Robert Manley, who served from 1921 to 1955 and Elwin Alder who has served since 1955.

It was almost a "gentleman's agreement" in the early years of the council to have three citrus men and two business men and then reverse the process the next time.

However, in later years a rift developed between the two when citrus men objected to taxes that benefited only towns people and businessmen said the growers did nothing to promote business and were against industry.

Today's council make-up is primarily of business since four of them are in some kind of business. James Christensen, is a public relations director for a Rock Co., A.M. "Max" Hawkins, Jr., is a realtor and a citrus rancher, Ronald Rossiter, owns RBZ Egg Ranch, and Zella Stone, is a funeral director. Mayor George Gibson, is a retired FBI agent and works in the security dept. of Kaiser Steel Co.

COUNCIL AGENDA COMPLEX

A look at the council agendas of yesterday and today, show how complex the city government has become. The early council's agenda was so small, often it was not written down, the business consisted mainly of reading reports, payment of bills and once in awhile settling private disputes. (Such as roosters crowing and causing a noise problem.) The council had to hear the "facts" and sooth ruffled nerves.

Today's council meeting, to everyone's satisfaction, is more involved with a written agenda, which may contain as many as 30 or 40 items involving public hearings, detailed reports, not only on local, but regional problems, and the awarding of bids. Private disputes still show up now and again and after a lengthy hearing may be resolved, at least for the moment.

Other than the elected council, also elected are the City Clerk, and City Treasurer. Serving now is Doreen Carpenter, clerk and Robert Thrall, treasurer.

Councilmen serve four year terms with three up for election in the even numbered years and two in the odd numbered years.

The city is administered by departments which include planning, building and safety, police, fire, administrative, engineering, finance, purchasing, public works, personnel, recreation, water, parks, equipment pool, streets, sanitation and sewers.

Council members serve in rotation on these departments and meet either on a regular or on-call basis.

COUNCIL COMMITTEE

Under the council are the following committees which report directly to council and the council has the option to accept their recommendations or reject them. Generally the members and chairmen are made up of local citizens appointed by the mayor. They are: library board, administrators of the library; architectural commission; planning commission; parks and recreation; housing authority and any other committee the council may elect to form.

At the present time, serving on committees are the following councilmen: Budget-finance, Stone, Christensen and Hawkins; street/light, Stone, Hawkins; water sewage, Christensen, Hawkins; police-fire, Hawkins, Stone; downtown re-development, Stone, Rossiter; Legislative, Christensen; slater city, Stone; civic center, Rossiter; culture center, Rossiter; library board, Rossiter; parks and recreation, Rossiter.

Since so much citrus ranching has phased out, the real problem that faces the city is what will take its place? The general trend has been to the building of homes, but when tight money forces a curtailment in this field, then the economy is ground to a halt.

Commercial runs a close second to home building with many shopping centers dotting the sections of the city. The main program was re-vitalization of the downtown area a few years ago.

In the making is a 5 million dollar shopping center along Foothill Boulevard and Grove Avenue; a million dollar fashion square from the freeway to Foothill Boulevard along Mountain Avenue or in this vicinity, and a shopping center along 19th Street off Euclid Avenue along the proposed Foothill Freeway. Expansion of the downtown area to Grove Avenue is also being proposed.

FUTURE PLANNING

The future planning of Upland will be most important since the city is relatively small, 13.8 sq. miles. Also, there is a prevailing attitude of keeping the city one of quality.

Steering committee sets up meetings

Ground rules and a target date for completion of their study on school finances in the Upland City School District, has been set by the citizens committee. The group accepted the recommendations of the steering committee under the direction of Jim Cramer, chairman. The steering committee was formed when the main committee asked for more direction.

Serving on the committee with Cramer were Mrs. Stanley Hoffman, Mrs. John Clinton, Ralph Foley, Fred Kramer, Hal Ballin and Superintendent, Vern Orum. The following were the goals to be covered by the target date, April 21; the public is invited to attend all meetings which are held in the district offices.

-To call on the board of trustees, along with administrative and teacher representatives, to review the district's 1969-70 budget with an eye to "immediate curtailment of non-essential items." Any savings that can be effected will be carried forward into the 1970-71 budget.

-To ask the board of trustees Supt. Vern H. Orum and his staff and representative principals and teachers to prepare a proposed 1970-71 budget, defining the cost of basic education and services and setting forth revenue sources.

-To contact Gov. Ronald Reagan and his staff and ask the state to send an expert on school finance to explain "what the state has in mind" in the way of financial support to school districts. Cramer outlined the following

"format of future activities" at the committee's regular Tuesday night meetings:

-March 3, a report by Supt. Orum on a tentative 1970-71 budget and what approaches may be taken to reduce it.

-March 10, a discussion by the committee of Orum's recommendations and suggestions.

-March 17, consideration of a 1970-71 budget, with special attention to the cost of basic education, supplementary education and service.

-March 24, discussion with the public of a proposed 1970-71 budget.

-March 31, hearing a report by a representative of Gov. Reagan's office on projected state financial programs.

-April 7, "hopefully to discuss and vote on" committee recommendations to the board of trustees.

-April 14, an open date to complete discussions.

DeVore Freeway important

The Board of Directors of the Upland Chamber of Commerce at its regular February Board Meeting unanimously adopted a resolution endorsing and urging speedy completion of the DeVore Freeway along the route presently proposed.

Planners face busy agenda

A busy agenda faces the Planning Commission when it meets tonight, Feb. 26, at 7:30 in the council chambers, city hall, 177 E. "D" Street. The group will hold 11 public hearings involving zone changes and Conditional Use Permits.

Re-appearing on the agenda will be a zone change for property located at Mulberry Avenue and Foothill Boulevard, asked for by Marie Tobin. She seeks to locate a professional building on her property, but residents directly behind the location have objected. She now seeks to change the property from commercial professional to commercial highway.

A Conditional Use Permit will be asked for in establishing a mobile home park on 13th street and Benson Avenue by the Matreyk Homes, Inc. Another CUP has been asked for by the Jafam Corp, 1725 N. Euclid Ave., for a planned integrated shopping center in a single family residential area at 19th Street and Euclid Avenue.

The public is invited to attend the meeting.

The Board sees the Freeway as a necessary development in view of future expansion in the West End Area, providing greater ease of access to the much-increased traffic volume projected for the next ten years.

Roger Ward

Roger Ward C of C speaker

Roger Ward, Indianapolis 500 winner, will be the featured speaker at the Upland Chamber of Commerce breakfast, Friday, Feb. 27, at 7:30 a.m., at the Arbor Restaurant, Euclid Avenue and Foothill Boulevard. He will show films of the Ontario Speedway.

Ward is considered a "great" in auto racing history, having won the 500-mile race, twice. He has also won the National Driving Championship, as recognized by the United States Auto Club.

He's a native of Kansas and drove his first race in a midjet auto race in Texas and also won the AAA National Stock Car Race crown in 1951. Ward retired after the Indianapolis race in 1966 where he set many records.

For reservations to the breakfast, call the chamber office, 982-8816.

Eight candidates seek three seats

There are eight candidates running in the April 14 councilmanic election for the three vacant seats.

All three incumbents are running again, they are: James Christensen, 41, 1333 N. Magnolia Ave., public relations director, A. M. "Max" Hawkins, Jr., 54, 1177 Redding Way, realtor and citrus rancher and Mrs. Zella Stone, 64, 329 E. 9th St., funeral director.

Other candidates are, Frank Ayala, 47, 84 Euclid Place, dept. head; Hal Ballin, 39, 300 W. 22nd St., attorney; Jerry Leggit, 1845 N. First Ave., minister; John McCarthy, 50, 1069 Mesa Court, retired police captain, and Howard McGarry, 1424 Victoria, state narcotics administrator.

Deadline for filing was noon, Feb. 19 and the election is Tuesday, April 14.

A new note of interest has crept into the campaigns this year with the new state law requiring candidates to file a disclosure of financial interest.

This has to be done within 10 days after the candidate has filed. He must list investments in any corporation or business subject to regulation by any state or local public agency.

Candidates who wish to have statements of qualifications sent out with ballot notices have to bear the cost of them. This action was voted by the city council recently. The cost is $75.

Applicants for absentee ballots have to apply at the city clerk's office located on Second Avenue and "D" Street between Monday, March 16, and Tuesday, April 7. Thursday, April 9, is the last day to file with the City Clerk a declaration to be a write-in candidate.

Election day is Tuesday, April 14, and the polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

A canvass of returns will be held on Tuesday, April 21, when the city council shall meet and conduct a canvass of returns which have already been verified by the city clerk. This is the time when the new councilmen start their terms.

In addition to the council seats, the elected mayor issue will be on the ballot this year. If it passes, then in 1972, along with two council seats, the people may file for this post, thus leaving one council and one mayor's seat.

Time for a study

It has been apparent for some time now that a study on the zoning in Upland is needed.

The deciding factor certainly would be the recently passed conditional use permit that was granted to establish a restaurant on the corner of Euclid Avenue and Foothill Boulevard.

This is what happens when strip zoning is allowed in an area, the need for compromise arises and everyone loses.

The piece of land between Euclid Avenue and Foothill Boulevard is a good example of strip zoning. Two lots cannot be developed because of the restrictions imposed by the other lots. No end of things has been proposed and turned down, the owners felt frustrated and cheated. To add to the bad planning aspect is the fact these businesses back up to single home residents and this causes friction and hard feelings between the businesses and residents.

There are other areas that while they don't have strip zoning, they do have penalties on the residents. For instance, the commercial 3 zoning in the southeast quadrant of the city which means that the lower income families can not add on to their homes or make any substantial improvements.

Besides, the families, the older senior citizens are affected by this zoning. The very people who need the most encouragement aren't getting it. It was reasoned that someday commercial would be developed in that area. Someday is a long time when you don't have much money or are old.

We are small for a city, only 13 sq. miles, we can not continue to grow like toadstool or we will be not a city of quality but a hodge-podge of bad planning.

Environmental control begins at home and it better begin now.

What's with Laos?

Our Man In Washington

By BILL KENNEDY

WASHINGTON - While President Nixon has succeeded to some extent in cooling down controversy over the war in Vietnam, there is growing concern on Capitol Hill as to his intentions regarding the neighboring country of Laos.

Last fall when discussing with this reporter the U.S. semi-secret involvement in Laos, Sen. J.W. Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, voiced fear that Laos might turn out to be another Vietnam.

When the Senate last year voted $2.5 billion in aid to Laos and Thailand, it was with the proviso that no American ground troops be used in those countries.

This condition was endorsed by President Nixon, but objected to by the Pentagon. Then last month when Nixon delivered his budget message to Congress, he glaringly omitted any reference to this condition.

THIS HAS been duly noted by Missouri Sen. Stuart Symington, member of the Foreign Relations Committee, who has been receiving mail from concerned people back home. All of this makes one wonder if the president has yielded to Pentagon pressure and has withdrawn his endorsement of the restriction on ground troops.

Fulbright, most severe critic of U.S. involvement in the Southeast Asia war, contends that in more ways than not Laos has already turned into a Vietnam.

He points to these similarities: A war which the U.S. undertook that it could not win and feared to lose; a war the U.S. began at a low-level of involvement and failed to comprehend the enemy's ability to escalate in pace with the U.S.; a war in which, Fulbright says, "we have become tools rather than allies of a regime that could not govern without us."

About the only way in which Laos is not a Vietnam, Fulbright says, is the number of Laotians killed can never equal the number of Vietnamese killed, because there are only three million of them.

FULBRIGHT IS right in a number of his observations, for there are in fact striking similarities between what America is doing in Laos now and what America did in the early stages of the Vietnam war.

The Laos war is being fought in the air and on the ground with the principal antagonists as the North Vietnamese and the Armee Clandestine (AC) - and the Royal Laotian Army and the Patho Lao as minor participants.

The ground war as yet is not being fought by U.S. troops but by the AC (mountain tribesmen) fully financed by the U.S. and with a few hundred military advisers and CIA agents on hand.

America pays, trains and equips the AC, supplies it with helicopter service and tactical bombing support. Americans plan and direct operations at least at staff level. The Patho Lao are Communist forces left over from the French war, and are roughly equivalent to the Viet Cong in South Vietnam.

BUT THE Patho Lao have become relatively insignificant, nearly supplanted by North Vietnamese soldiers who number some 50,000. And in many instances, the Patho Lao are beasts of burden for the North Vietnamese troops - used to pack supplies.

There is one big difference in the two wars: In South Vietnam that country's troops and Americans conduct the regular Army role of fighting, while the Viet Cong carry out the guerilla warfare. But in Laos, the AC which is supported by the U.S. is in the guerilla role, with the North Vietnamese and Patho Lao in the traditional Army role.

President Nixon has said the American people are getting all the information they need to have about U.S. involvement in Laos. He has declined to answer questions on the matter when brought up at his news conferences.

THE PRESIDENT also has apparently urged members of the Foreign Relations Committee not to divulge information concerning U.S. presence in Laos - information which they have dug up on their own through hearings.

These hearings will be resuming shortly, and there is growing demand that the committee make public the information which it has. And there are a growing number of committee members who think this might be a good idea.

Some say it is one thing to support the president in his efforts to gradually pull America out of the Vietnam war, but another to give a blank check for involvement in another such conflict in Laos.

A Little Bit

OF THIS AND THAT

By Bob Evans

A thoughtful argument in favor of lowering the voting age in California has been issued by Assemblyman John V. Briggs of the 35th District.

In what is admittedly a compromise move, Briggs suggests lowering the age to 19.

"I am willing to stand with youth and support a re-examination of the starting points for adulthood," Briggs states.

In a 31-page proposal, Briggs notes the inconsistencies in current state law regarding what persons under 21 lawfully can and cannot do.

So what he proposes is not only a lowering of the voting age, but of the age of adulthood, noting that there really is no distinction between the two.

We agree with Briggs' proposal and most of his arguments for them. He acknowledges the emotional appeal of the old-enough-to-fight, old-enough-to-vote phrase, but we agree with him that the slogan isn't sufficient reason for lowering the age to vote, which in the case of military obligation would be 18.

And on the other hand, the Assemblyman is aware that all persons over 21 aren't blessed automatically with political wisdom either. He states that it is "statistically demonstrable that many of our voters over 21 are no more mature in their political development than our citizens who have just graduated from high school."

The evidence which Briggs cites is frightening: a group of anthropology students at Sacramento State College asked more than 7,500 persons in California's capital city to sign a petition indicating agreement that all public officials should comply with the First, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments to the Constitution.

Briggs reports: "These amendments were not labeled as such, but the ringing phrases of our basic liberties were there for all to see - the right to trial by jury, freedom of the press, freedom of speech, and the right of peaceful assembly, and freedom from being deprived of these rights because of race, color or religion."

"Of the 7,500 people contacted, more than 5,000 refused to endorse these principles."

Realizing that some persons would hesitate to sign a petition for a group about which they know very little, Briggs said that "what frightens me are the comments some of the people made when they were asked to sign this petition."

One comment: "You should be put in jail; your whole organization should be put in jail for distributing this kind of material."

And a state Legislator, reading a paraphrase of First Amendment guarantees of speech, press, petition and peaceful assembly, said, "I'm opposed to this. All it does is permit riots and demonstrations."

Well, freedom admittedly makes trouble possible. But without freedom, nothing is.

Guest Editorial

LA PORTE, IND., HERALD-ARGUS: "What should be clear to freedom-loving citizens is that this nation cannot consider establishing policy on the basis of constant protest marches. The democratic foundation can withstand honest expressions of dissatisfaction with governmental policy, but it cannot accommodate to a steady diet of revolution-bent agitators shouting into every available microphone and holding forth on every street corner. We must be a responsible nation as well as a fair nation. If in dissent, we are bent only on destruction, we have sad and fatal times in our future."

ELLENVILLE, N.Y., JOURNAL: "Inflation has us by the seat of our pants and the more we try to help ourselves by seeking higher wages to meet higher cost (brought about by higher wages) the more we worsen our predicament... The high cost of government is killing the purchasing power of the taxpayer. And it is going to get worse unless taxpayers unite and make their protests heard, loud and strong, in the legislative halls of government, all the way from the old home town, through county and state levels, on up to Washington."

HARRISONBURG, VA., NEWS-RECORD: "Officials of the American Medical Association have taken the public to task for adopting the attitude that modern medicine is so accomplished it can keep an individual well in spite of his habits... 'Our affluence has reduced physical exertion and increased overeating, excess drinking, smoking, late hours and drug consumption', says the AMA Board of Trustees, in urging the nation's doctors to 'educate the American people to the role of the individual in the delivery of health care.'"

TOWANDA, PA., REVIEW: "Every school child knows the official bird of the United States is the bald eagle, but the only place he will see this once plentiful bird is in a zoo. There is danger that this native creature, with its rockhewn beauty and fiercely competitive endurance among natural enemies, will disappear from the land it formerly surveyed so majestically... It would be a shame if future generations were denied acquaintance with those remaining because this generation ignored the threats of diminishing natural habitat and other imbalances in the laws of nature affecting these winged and furred creatures. Especially the bald eagle, a living symbol of the independent spirit and rugged beauty of the nation's founding fathers, deserves utmost efforts to prevent its extinction."

WIND

How did you like the wind the other day and night? It's okay for Mother Nature to go on a kick of breathing exercises, but must she go so far?

SPEEDY RECOVERY

We wish a speedy recovery to Capt. Pete Smith of the Police Department. He has been in the hospital a couple of times with an undetermined painful ailment. At first it was thought he had a heart attack, but that was ruled out. He's awaiting tests to see what is the matter and in the meantime, we wish him well.

Let's Laugh

GUEST SPEAKER -- Frank Bonnet, member Upland Kiwanis Club and active in Boy Scouting, and Orville Garrison, president of the club, congratulate another member, Howard Russell, executive director Old Baldy Council Boy Scouts of America, at the club's recent meeting.

Leaders can serve everywhere when it comes to Boy Scouting

In a sometimes humorous speech, Howard Russell, executive director, Old Baldy Council, Boy Scouts of America, told the Upland Kiwanis Club, that all of them were leaders.

He said, "You may never climb a mountain with someone else's kid, but you are a leader in scouting just the same. Leaders in scouting are the men who help financially, who serve as counselors, district committeemen and who are leaders in their churches, PTA's and service clubs that sponsor scouting."

"What makes a leader? Russell asked. "Basically just one, a desire to see that their community is a better place to live because of them. As Kiwanians, you are leaders and as a leader you help scouting. We'd all best be careful how we live; we may be the only Bible some people read. We'd better be careful how we teach, we may be the only lesson some pupils ever learn," he said.

Russell, spoke of the "creaking woodsmen," who are Dads of Boy Scouts and who give up their long week-ends to camp on the edge of nowhere to eat food that is half-cooked over a campfire, wash dishes and faces in cold stream water, and lift their aching bones up and down mountain trails and say they enjoy doing it.

The executive director said Upland has a good group of leaders in scouting, but there is a need for men to become active.

"The only difference between a boy and a man is time, and the mere passing of time almost assures that a boy will reach manhood. The only question is whether he is prepared for manhood, and it is a question that we... Not I... But we must resolve in that short period between boyhood and manhood. Every boy we miss is one we can never call back and make over. Youth is the most perishable of qualities and we have no time to waste waiting for someone to get more active than he is now."

Four UHS seniors are Merit Scholars

Four Upland High School seniors have been advanced to finalist status in the 1969-1970 National Merit Scholarship competition. They were presented certificates of merit and commendation letters by Thomas M. Glaesche, Principal.

The four finalists are: Peter F. Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dixon, 1627 N. First Ave.; James D. Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hall, 1372 N. San Antonio Ave.; Randall Kleinman, son of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Kleinman, 2500 N. Euclid Ave.; Sidney S. Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Simpson, 2449 San Antonio Crescent East.

As National Merit finalists, the four are advanced to a select group of approximately one-half of one per cent of graduating secondary school seniors in the nation. This group of 15,000 remains in competition for 1,000 National Merit $1000 Scholarships and for about 1800 Merit scholarships renewable for four years of college study at an accredited institution of the winners choice.

Upland Gets Cigarette Tax

State Controller Houston I. Flournoy announced the distribution of $6,152,291 to counties and cities at the December apportionment of cigarette tax.

San Bernardino County received $42,963,91, and Upland City got $8,377.68. The 58 Counties' share was $1,189,138 and the cities' share totaled $4,963,153.

This distribution represents 30 per cent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of December 1969, less 30 per cent of the total administrative costs in compliance with legislation approved in 1969. Prior to this distribution, all administrative costs were paid out of the State's share of the revenue.

Budget cutting session planned

Upland School District trustees have scheduled two meetings with other district representatives to consider possible ways of reducing the current district budget.

Thursday night's meeting of the board of trustees was adjourned to Tuesday at 3 p.m. A subsequent meeting was set for the following Friday at 7:30 p.m.

In addition to board members and district administrators, participants will include representatives of teachers, principals and classified personnel.

The meetings were set at the request of a committee on school finance. This group was formed last month to help the district extricate itself from what administrators have described as a financial crisis.

Supt. Vern H. Orum told the committee recently that unless there was some drastic change in the finance picture the district would be unable to meet its payroll commitment next December.

Objective of the two meetings will be to curtail or eliminate non-essential items that may be found in the budget and to carry forward any savings that can be made to the 1970-71 budget.

IC Federation Plans Dance

The Italian Catholic Federation met recently in St. Joseph's hall with President Maria Pacioti presiding. A potluck dinner preceded the meeting.

Final plans for the third anniversary dinner-dance was made. It will be held on April 18 at the Fontana Inn, Fontana. Also plans for a bake sale to be held in March were made. President Pacioti announced the 1970 officers were installed at the Fontana Inn with Second Grand Vice President Peter Bonino of Los Angeles and Field Director Guy Masciotra of Burbank doing the installing. Music was provided by Mr. Rocco Volpendesta and son during the dinner.

Three new members were welcomed to the branch. They are Ideale Emilio, Almada Wheelock and Rosa Williams. Guests at this meeting were Misses Angela and Marguerite Minniti, Mr. Dominic Paolini and Mr. Jack Gaglio.

Good Luck!

"RED POWER"

Two Indian students from the University of California at Riverside visited the anthropology and contemporary American history classes last week and spoke on the topic of "Red Power." They stressed the point that the Indian does not want to become a part of the "White Society" of today. Instead, he wants to go back to the reservations and help his own people. Maybe the government classes the Indian as a minority group that does want to become a part of our melting pot.

Special lenten services at St. Mark's church

Special services during Lent at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Upland, include Meditations by the Rev. Charles A. Bennison, Jr., and The Way of the Cross Devotions. The services will be held on each of the five Fridays in Lent, Feb. 20, 27, March 6, 13, and 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Questions people ask about nuclear power plants:

(NOTE: To meet your growing need for electricity, contracts have been signed to add two of the world's largest nuclear generating units to the existing Nuclear Station at San Onofre. Here is what visitors to the site want to know about this peaceful use of the atom.)

Q. Is my home using electricity generated by nuclear power?

A. If you're a customer of Southern California Edison, you're probably using some electricity generated at the San Onofre Nuclear Station. It began operation over two years ago.

Q. Do nuclear plants create smog or other products harmful to the environment?

A. No. Nuclear power plants can help meet the critical needs for electricity without harm to the environment. Because of the nature of the plants and the care taken in their design, nuclear generation of electricity represents progress without environmental problems.

Q. Is there danger of radiation from a nuclear power plant?

A. No one has ever been injured by radiation from any commercial nuclear power plant in the United States during more than 12 years of operating experience. And you can safely breathe the air around a nuclear power plant for a lifetime. After all, even President Nixon lives next door to a nuclear plant when he's at the "White House West" in San Clemente. It's less than 3 miles from the San Onofre Nuclear Station.

Q. What has a "millirem" to do with radiation?

A. A millirem is a measurement of radiation. Everything on earth is radioactive to some small extent, and the average person receives 125 millirems of radiation per year. A person living next door to a nuclear power plant would be exposed to only about 5 more millirems a year—an insignificant amount. If a person lives in mile-high Denver, he receives about 50 additional millirems a year.

Q. Who sets the safety standards for nuclear power plants?

A. The Atomic Energy Commission regulates all nuclear plants to make certain they are designed, built and operated according to stringent safety standards.

Q. Can a nuclear power plant be built anywhere?

A. No. It can only be located at a site approved by the Atomic Energy Commission. And since water is needed for condenser cooling, it should be located close to a large body of water.

Q. Is discharged water harmful to humans?

A. No. You could drink the water used to cool nuclear power plant condensers and suffer no ill effects from radiation. However, at San Onofre, the water would be salty because it comes from the ocean.

Q. Is discharged water at San Onofre harmful to sea life?

A. No. Although the discharged water is warmer in the immediate vicinity of the outlet, ocean studies at San Onofre have revealed no harm to sea life. In fact, some marine ecologists believe the temperature increase to be helpful.

Q. Do nuclear power plants take a long time to build?

A. Yes. For example, it will take six or seven years to build the two new generating units at the San Onofre Nuclear Station. (That's two to three years longer than for a conventional unit.) The first of these additional nuclear units could be supplying electricity in 1976. Meanwhile, in order to meet customer power requirements between 1973 and 1976, Edison must proceed with the construction of two conventional generating units at our Huntington Beach Station. Otherwise, a power supply gap could occur.

Q. How much additional electricity will be generated at San Onofre?

A. The new units will have a generating capacity in excess of 2,000,000 kilowatts—enough to supply dependable, low-cost power to more than 2 million people—or three cities the size of San Francisco. San Diego Gas & Electric Company will participate in this project as it did in the original nuclear development at San Onofre. The new project will cost about $450 million.

More than 500,000 people have visited the San Onofre Nuclear Information Center. It's just south of San Clemente on Pacific Coast Highway. If you would like to know more about the peaceful use of the atom, drop in.

4 1/2% Regular Savings.

Your interest has been increased to 4 1/2%, computed daily and compounded quarterly. This is our most popular savings plan because it's so flexible. You can put money in. Take it out. Any time, any amount. Deposits made by the tenth of each quarter earn interest from the first.

5% Investors Passbook.

This is the passbook account that pays you more for leaving your money with us for at least 90 days. The 5% annual interest is compounded quarterly. $500 opens an account. Additional deposits are made in $100 amounts or more.

5 3/4% Certificates of Deposit.

We've lowered the entrance requirements and raised the rate on maturities of one year or longer. Two-year Certificates now earn 5 3/4% annually, and are issued for $500 or multiples of $500. One-year Certificates now pay you 5 1/2% annually.

7 1/2% Certificates of Deposit.

Large deposits—$100,000 or more—now earn 7 1/2% if left with us a year. The annual interest rates on these Certificates range from 6 1/4% to 7 1/4% depending on their maturity. These represent an increase of 3/4% to 1 1/4% over previous rates.

We think good money sense means a savings account at Bank of America. You avoid risk. And you increase earnings. Drop in at your nearest branch. They'll not only help you with the business of living—they'll show you how to make it pay.

College student earns honor

Paul Andrews, son of Rev. and Mrs. Bernard E. Andrews, 279 E. Buffington, Upland, has won academic honors at Seattle Pacific College for superior scholarship autumn quarter.

Paul is a Senior Philosophy major at the college.

The announcement was made by Dr. C. Melvin Foreman, dean of academic affairs for the college.

Seattle Pacific is a four-year, Christian, liberal arts college of 2,000 students which was founded in 1891 by the Free Methodist Church. It offers majors in 30 areas and masters degrees in five areas.

Musical escape

ALTA LOMA -- Chaffey College will provide a sanctuary from noise pollution with an evening of pop music in the little theater at 8 p.m. Feb. 27.

The pop concert, an annual creative arts division event, will be presented by the 55-piece Chaffey College Concert Band under the direction of Jack M. Mason.

The program will be characterized with selections from the lighter side of the band's repertoire.

Featured will be such numbers as "Festivo," "On the Trail" from "The Grand Canyon Suite," movie theme music from "Lawrence of Arabia" and Holst's "Second Suite for Military Band."

There will be no admission charge.

Hilliard keynoter at seminar

ALTA LOMA -- Keynoter of a four-panel seminar at Chaffey College for legal secretaries March 14 will be Superior Court Judge Carl B. Hilliard.

Hilliard's presentation, "The Most Common Mistakes of Legal Secretaries," will be at 9:15 a.m. in the Forum Building with registration at 8:30.

The seminar is being programmed by Ontario Legal Secretaries Association in cooperation with the college. Business equipment will be on display for participants.

The four panel sessions are scheduled to start at 10:30, then repeated at 11:40, enabling a person to attend two of the panels in sequence.

Panel subjects and panelists will be:

Adoptions -- John H. Hews, attorney, Riverside; Mrs. Donna Walters, social service worker, San Bernardino County Adoption Service, and Mrs. Sharon Skinner, secretary, Best, Best and Krieger, Riverside.

Order to Show Cause Procedures -- Norman Hanover, attorney, San Bernardino; A. J. Bernhart, Los Angeles County Commissioner, and Miss Marilyn Horton, secretary, Naylo and Hyde, Ontario.

Personal Injury -- George O. West, attorney, Los Angeles; Per Trebler, investigator, Covington and Crowe, Ontario; Mrs. Shirley Vanderbeck, secretary, Maroney, Demchuk, Ziebarth and Brandt, Upland; Mrs. Vanderbeck is also president of the Pomona Legal Secretaries Association.

Probate -- George Vinnette, attorney, Ontario; Miss Ann Stodden, probate examiner, Los Angeles County; and Mrs. Sally Ogush, secretary, Launer, Chaffey and Hanna, Fullerton.

The program will end with a luncheon at 1 p.m. in the college cafeteria, the price included in the $7.50 registration fee.

Reservations may be obtained from Mrs. Judy Ortmann, state board of governors representative for the Ontario Legal Secretaries Association. Mrs. Ortmann is affiliated with Vinnette, Lance and Glenn, 125 West F Street, Ontario.

Deadline for reservations is March 5 and additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ortmann at 984-2444.

Indians will present folk opera locally

Did you ever want to shake hands with a real Indian Chief? Here is your chance!

A Chief of the Sioux nation, Edgar Red Cloud of the Oglalas, has informed composer S. Earle Blakeslee that he will come to Ontario from South Dakota to attend the local showcase performances of Blakeslee's Sioux folk opera, "Red Cloud," at the Chaffey Auditorium later this month. The composer made the announcement here today. He also said that a matinee planned for Sunday, March 1, has been cancelled and replaced by an open dress rehearsal at special rates for students on Thursday evening, Feb. 26.

This was done, Blakeslee said, at the request of student body officers who felt a Thursday night performance would be more acceptable to high school and college students.

The students and any accompanying adults will be charged only 50 cents for a show which will have an adult admission price of $7.50, $5.50 and $4 at Friday and Saturday night performances, Feb. 27 and 28. These main dates were not subject to any change. Children under 12, accompanied by parents, will be admitted to all performances for 50 cents.

Chief Edgar Red Cloud, a member of the Oglala tribal council and great, great grandson of the original Chief Red Cloud, Christianizer of the Sioux, confirmed his plans to attend the premiere in a long-distance call from Pine Ridge, principal center of the Oglala community.

Blakeslee visited the community with Mrs. Blakeslee two years ago and met the Chief at the Tribal Council headquarters to discuss long-range plans for the presentation of the opera as a standing summer tourist attraction in the land of the Sioux.

The performances will feature six star soloists, exciting Indian dancers, a 40-voice chorus, a 50-piece orchestra and one of the nation's leading symphonic and operatic conductors, James K. Guthrie of San Bernardino.

Blakeslee said he asked the Chief to address the "Red Cloud" audiences in Sioux and to appear in his full tribal regalia, with war bonnet and eagle feathers, the traditional dress of the Sioux. This, the composer said, the Chief has agreed to do. He may be accompanied to Ontario by another chief of the Tribal Council.

Tickets to "Red Cloud" may be reserved in advance at the Ontario Chamber of Commerce (714) 984-2458; Dugan's Music Store, Montclair (714) 983-3601; Hebert's, Pomona (714) 622-3518 and Folk Music Center, Claremont (714) 624-2929.

All proceeds above expenses will go to assist promising young Indian talent and any deficit will be underwritten by Mr. Blakeslee personally.

'Two Parts Wood'

Cal E. Hildebrand, Sales Manager of Carr Paper Company, will speak to the Pomona Valley Chapter of Executives' Secretaries, Inc. at the Holiday Inn in Ontario on Feb. 26, regarding the Paper Industry. His topic will be "Two Parts Wood -- Eight Parts Water; Stir for Fun and Profit."

A hospitality hour at 6:30 p.m. will precede the dinner meeting.

Exhibit Above Wheels Keeps On the Move

Moving Art

Students of Alta Loma Junior High School recently viewed the San Bernardino County Artmobile, featuring 'Careers in Art.'

The following series of pictures records their reactions to the mobile exhibit

Some peered . . . peeked . . . touched . . . felt . . . stared . . . investigated . . . questioned . . . stopped . . . wondered . . .

Some listened as Ray Boyko, with the traveling exhibit, explained some of the details and intricacies involved in commercial art. Boyko perhaps shattered illusions as he stressed some of the uncreative and 'edious' jobs which are available in commercial art.

Many phases of commercial art were illustrated in this exhibit, as jewelry, animation, fabric and fashion design, photography, architecture and sculpture, technical illustration and package design and teaching.

The exhibit is available to any school in the San Bernardino County area.

An invitation to paradise . . .

Teen-age businessmen

Chris Ingram, 17-year old president of IDK Enterprises, has been elected president of the Metropolitan Council of Achievers Associations (MC AA), according to Junior Achievements Executive vice president C. N. Parker.

The MCAA, composed of representatives from the 246 JA companies operated by over 4,700 high school students in five southern California counties, is an association of JA chambers of commerce.

Young Ingram, a senior at Pomona High School, holds the Executive Award, the highest individual progressive award in Junior Achievement.

He presently holds the title of National Production Executive - of -the Year which he was awarded at the National Achievers Conference at Indiana University last August. His JA company is counseled by Sunkist Growers.

Lower Rates on Some Phone Calls

A new class of interstate long distance telephone service which lowers the cost of long distance calls for General Telephone Company's customers was established Jan. 1.

The new class is designated as "dial station to station" and is part of a nation-wide restructuring of interstate long distance rates, according to General Telephone's revenue requirements vice-president, Richard L. Ohlson.

"Dial station to station" denotes a long distance interstate call dialed and completed by the customer without the assistance of an operator," Ohlson said.

"The service of an operator cannot be used in connection with completing a 'dial station to station' call, with the exception of reestablishing a call which has been interrupted after a number has been reached or in completing a call where facilities are not available for customer dialing.

"When interstate long distance calls are placed station to station with the assistance of an operator, they will be classed as 'operator station to station' calls," Ohlson explained.

There will be a reduction in rates for some interstate long distance calls depending on the time placed and the distance between toll centers.

For example, the maximum charges for a three minute call at the day rate of the new "dial station to station" category is $1.40. It was $1.70. A three-minute call in the night (and weekend)

Sand is slipping away

LOS ANGELES—An estimated million cubic yards of sand — enough to fill Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum approximately two-thirds full — is eroded and permanently lost from Southern California beaches every year, says a University of Southern California geologist.

Apparently the only way of saving the dwindling beaches will be to replenish them artificially with sand dredged up from the sea bottom, according to Dr. Bernard W. Pipkin, USC senior lecturer in geological sciences.

The price tag to the public may run as high as $1 per cubic yard, Dr. Pipkin told a USC campus interviewer.

Natural and man-made causes—waves, low rainfall, flood-control structures and barriers—have combined to bring the beach erosion problem to the critical stage at several places from Point Conception to the Mexican border, the USC scientist declared.

"Exceptionally heavy surf pounding the beaches has carried a huge volume of sand out to sea beyond its point of no return. We believe much of it is driven down into offshore submarine canyons, where it is more or less permanently lost.

"Combined with this, we are running out of sources of sand on land," he said.

The USC geologist explained that about 20 years of protracted drought is a primary cause of the beach depletion, because without rainfall, sand cannot be carried to the shore in sufficient quantities to maintain a constant supply.

Further complicating the problem, dams and other flood-control structures built by man on southern California rivers have prevented the waterways from carrying sand to the beaches.

"It is estimated that 50 per cent of the sand that would have been transported to the beaches in the last 10 years is trapped behind dams, and the figure will increase in the future," he said.

Comparing rivers with dams to those without them points up a stark contrast.

Poll shows trading stamps popular with shoppers

Who saves trading stamps?

Shoppers in about eight out of ten U.S. households save them, according to a new nationwide survey by Benson & Benson, Inc. of Princeton, New Jersey.

The latest survey showed no change in stamp popularity since the previous study in 1968, and very little change from the high level of savings over the last eight consecutive years.

The key finding of the study shows stamps are saved in some 47,100,000 households in this country, or 78 per cent of the estimated 60,400,000 households.

The poll was the thirteenth made annually to sample stamp popularity.

The research was done in behalf of The Speery and Hutchinson Company, which offers the S & H Green Stamp service nationwide.

The study also showed women slightly outnumber men savers. Of the ladies interviewed, 76 per cent representing 51,680,000 of the nation's 68,000,000 women, reported they personally participate in saving stamps to redeem. About 74 per cent of the men interviewed either save themselves, or contribute to someone else in the household who saves.

The study showed trading stamps continue on a high plane of popularity in every section of the country, as well as among people in all age brackets.

The highest proportion of savers was found in the 45-64 year age group of married adults. The lowest ranking group was single adults. Still, 68 per cent of this group said they save.

Income makes little difference in attitudes toward stamp saving. About 82 per cent of both middle and upper income families save, covering incomes of $7,000 per year and up. People in all walks of life save stamps, the study showed. Seven out of ten farm families save stamps, and among labor union members, 81 per cent save.

Among families where the head of the household was at the professional or managerial level, about four out of five save. The same proportions held where occupations were sales, or clerical, skilled or semi-skilled.

Of the more than one hundred brands of trading stamps available throughout the country, 56 per cent of the families save S & H Green Stamps.

Most consumers reported they appreciate the extra value of trading stamps. About six out of ten households said they like and want stamps. They continue to take a dim view of government interference with their right to save stamps. Only eight per cent of U.S. households favor governmental action to eliminate stamps. This percentage has remained almost constant since the first study was made by Benson & Benson in 1957. The survey also polled consumers who had personal experience shopping in an area where a food store had dropped stamps.

Fifty-one per cent said that initially prices declined when the store discontinued stamps but less than 24 per cent said prices remained below the stamp stores; ten per cent thought prices later rose to a level higher in non-stamp stores, than in stamp-giving competitors, and 47 per cent said that prices eventually became equal.

THE GREATEST

CARRIER SEARCH

We are running a popularity contest among our readers to find our "Greatest Newspaper Carrier". Between now and April 9, you will have the opportunity to vote for your carrier as "The Greatest" and help him win the Grand Prize - a Mini-bike. There will be 4 Second Place prizes of Dragster-type bikes and 10 Third Place awards of gas-powered airplanes.

Your carrier has been doing you a favor for a long time and now you have the chance to do him one. There are three ways you can vote for your favorite: Write us a letter about the boy's service, his manners, disposition, or anything else you might like to mention. You can vote on the special ballot he will be carrying on his monthly rounds. And, any collections he makes will mean bonus points for him.

You don't have to pay him for your newspaper . . . but he depends on you for his income. He keeps 60% of what he is able to collect, and now those collections mean even more as a vote of appreciation and bringing him that many points closer to being our "Greatest Carrier".

He tries hard to earn his money. Payment, of course, is voluntary so he really hustles to be deserving of his collections. It's up to you. Give him your vote if you feel he is "The Greatest", and continue to enjoy your newspaper.

UPLAND

Highlanders 3rd in SAL

The Upland Highlanders retained their bid for the second berth in the CIF playoffs. The Highlanders are presently in third place behind Pomona and Chino.

Along the way the Scots demoralized a strong Garey team 81-69 for their eighth victory against four losses. Leonard McDonald and Louie Engle paced the Highlanders, as did the fine boardwork of Frank Harris.

The Vikings kept the game close until the final two minutes of the last quarter behind the outstanding play of their two forwards Jim Terry and Kevin Thomas. It took all of the Highlander's five starters in double figures to turn back the Vikes.

McDonald pumped in his highest output of the year with 23 points while Engle contributed 20 more for the Highlander cause.

With a 9-5 league record, the Highlanders wound up in third place in the San Antonio League standings by beating Montclair 68-65. Montclair finished the season in a tie for sixth place with Garey, just one game out of the cellar. Highlander Guard Louis Engle did most of the damage to the Cavaliers by collecting 22 points.

Engle rattled the basket on several occasions from the top of the key, drawing out the defense and freeing Forward Frank Harris for easy baskets underneath. Harris finished the night with 14 points.

With less than two minutes to go in the game, Montclair held a slim one-point lead. But disaster struck when Phil Merenda injured his ankle on a rebound. Leonard McDonald provided the buffer zone in the last two seconds by sinking two free throws to give the Highlanders a three-point lead.

The Cavaliers had fine performances from Gary Turner, who paced the Cavs with 19 points and some fine boardwork. Greg Campbell, the 6-5 center who collected 18 points, and Phil Merenda, who netted 14 points and stalwart defensive play.

UPLAND'S JEFF TROBAUGH — comes down with crucial rebound in the last minute of play to secure the win for the Highlanders, Upland finished third in SAL standings, while Montclair dropped to sixth place.

Fullerton tops Chaffey in 9-2 game

After collecting eight straight victories this season the Chaffey College Panthers tasted defeat in the championship semi-finals of the Mt. San Antonio Tournament. The loss came at the hands of Fullerton by a score of 9-2.

To reach the semi-finals, the Panthers eliminated MSAC by the score of 13-4 and Orange Coast College 8-2. In the MSAC conquest the Panthers displayed an awesome attack, collecting 12 hits in 38 trips to the plate.

Following four scoreless innings, Chaffey began to rout the Mounties by loading up the bases and then unloading them on Mark Wise's three-run triple. Greg Garver added a three run double in the sixth to put the game out of reach.

Garver also added a two-run double in the ninth.

All-Conference selection last year, Darrell Cederlind, went four for six to equal his best output this season.

Down by two runs in the OCC contest, Chaffey blasted its way for four runs in the second inning behind Cederlind's two-run single and an error. The Panthers added two more in the fifth and put the icing on the cake with two more in the eighth. The big blow was a 345-foot blast by Gary Roma, and a perfectly executed squeeze play by Fred Jenkins.

In the Fullerton defeat, Chaffey did not look bad collecting 11 hits, but the 13 strikeouts and the inability to get the timely hits proved to far outweigh the good points.

Veteran John Gaylord, who had been nursing a sprained ankle, showed signs of tiring in the first few innings and was tabbed for five runs off a variety of "bleeders" and infield hits. Jack Wenger came in to relieve and experienced only one bad inning.

It was the seventh inning before the Panthers got onto the scoreboard when Mark Wise reached first on an infielder's choice advanced to third on a single by Ernie Viveros, and scored on a wild pitch.

Braves got off to good start but then.....

The Alta Loma Braves looked like a championship team the other night for the first ten minutes, but fell to the powerful Jaguars from Ontario High in the mythical city championship 86-65.

The Braves took an early 9-6 lead, utilizing slow-down tactics which disrupted Ontario's style of play. Alta Loma led for most of the first half, but with four minutes left in the first half, Robert Young gave the Jags the lead with a three-point play.

Ontario was never behind from that point on, as they received outstanding performances from Young, Terry Pugh, and Doug Pearson. Young shared scoring honors with Alta Loma's Kent Dugan with 23 points, while Pugh collected 16 points. Pearson played his usual game, harassing the Brave guards and causing 19 turnovers himself. The Braves were charged with a total of 25 turnovers.

Young provide Ontario with rebounding strength against the shorter Braves and pulled down a tremendous 24 missed shots. Young had previously set the Hacienda League record with 31 bounds in a game with the Braves. He tied his own record three games later against Gladstone.

Both teams scored at will in the final period, but even in that period, the Braves were beaten. Ontario collected 35 points, while Alta Loma netted 31 points, their largest output of the season.

Wrestlers at UHS go undefeated

Upland High School Basketball team failed in its bid for a CIF berth, but this wasn't the case of the Highlander wrestling squad. In a thrilling 106-102 victory over Chino, the Scots did to the Cowboys what the Cowboys basketball squad did to them. They went undefeated in league play.

Chino, who finished second, was hoping for a tie by upsetting the favored Scot wrestlers.

However, even though the Highlander squad holds the trophy for the league title, it is the individuals who will make the trip to the CIF playoffs.

The Highlanders placed four men on the all-tournament team. They are Rick Sullivan, Tom Winter, Rick Hoekwater, and Mike Glasheen. Runners-up also go to the playoffs and the Scot Grapplers mentioned were Russ Cozart, Tom Littleton, and Norman Thomas.

Montclair High sent only one man to the playoffs, Stan Combs, but he is a definite threat to bring home the championship.

Local SPORTS

College auto racing controversial topic

By BOB MIM MACK
Auto racing is the biggest spectator sport in the United States and is becoming one of the most exciting sports in the world. Why, then, shouldn't we incorporate intercollegiate auto racing?

This is the biggest question in the college sports field today. As of the present, it is a written law (among colleges and universities) that having the school own a race car is strictly prohibited.

But one of the local colleges, namely Chaffey, has undertaken the job of opening classes for advanced automobile technology, for college credits.

The originating source of this idea is the top instructor and one-time professional driver, Sam Contino. Contino is a firm believer in the thought pattern that auto racing should be the next college sport, since it would be a larger fund-raising sport than baseball.

The plan is feasible in the Pomona Valley and Riverside area, but the actualization of it, however, on an interstate basis would be difficult. There are two tracks in the area for use by the colleges, those being Ontario Motor Speedway and Riverside Raceway. But what of the university which has no track within 100 miles?

The problems of such a college to acquire a racing car and team would multiply.

Then there is the question of insurance for the drivers. But if one thinks this problem out, one sees that the insurance for one intercollegiate sport would be similar to another, such as football or basketball. If it is a question of speed, then the colleges could put a limit on the size of the engines. Even Indianapolis does this.

As of yet, there are few valid arguments as to why there cannot be intercollegiate auto racing other than it is illegal in the college lawbooks.

However, the idea has gained the strength and efforts of some very influential people. Last week Paul Newman became an honorary member of the Chaffey College Racing Team. Bob Bondurant, an ex-driver retired to run a racing school, has shown quite an interest in the idea.

Newman "traded" his around-town VW for the racing jacket of the team. It is interesting to note that the price of the bug was approximately $10,000. It had a 351 cubic inch Ford engine in it.

At the present there are two colleges which are building race cars, Chaffey and San Jose State. But several other colleges have expressed interest in the idea.

Cavs fail to shake season's cold spell

Montclair has had trouble all season long with cold spells and it proved costly in last week's contest with Claremont. The Cavaliers dropped their ninth game in 13 outings; this one a 53-44 loss to the last-place Wolf-pack.

The visiting Cavaliers trailed for most of the first half, leading on only one occasion, 13-12, in the initial period. By intermission, they trailed 25-30.

Eight points on baskets by Scott Moore, Tom Smith, Gary Turner and Phil Williams gave the Cavaliers a 33-30 advantage at the opening of the third quarter. By the end of the third stanza, Montclair had its biggest lead in the game, 41-36.

But that was the last time Montclair scored until 2:07 remained in the contest. That was on a pair of free throws by Phil Merenda. It was only once more that the Cavaliers scored in the remainder of the game; another free throw, while Claremont yielded 15 points in the period. The one odd point was the Montclair free-throw shooting, which has cost them at least three league games.

Montclair finished the season just one game out of the cellar when they lost Upland 68-65.

Baseball clinic

A free baseball clinic is to be conducted at the Montclair High School gymnasium on Thursday, March 5, at 7 p.m. announced Byron Cunningham.

Some of the outstanding baseball coaches from the colleges in the area will be guest speakers. Featured will be instruction and demonstrations of infield and outfield play, pitching, hitting, and organization of practice sessions and drills. As much time as possible will be allowed for questions and answers.

For additional information call 626-6385.

Prison educators conduct seminar

A selected group of federal prison educators representing correctional institutions from Juneau, Alaska, to as far east as Petersburg, Va., began a month-long workshop recently at the Educational Center conducted by California State Polytechnic College (Pomona) at its Voorhis Campus near San Dimas.

Principal objective is the developing of ways to improve the teaching of "adult basic education" to educationally and socially disadvantaged offenders.

In charge of the program is a dynamic spoonful of scholarly womanhood from the University of Hawaii's Educational Research and Development Center. She's Dr. Antoinette Ryan, a specialist in educational research. Sheltering the workshop is a U.S. Office of Education grant.

"What we hope most to do here," explains Dr. Ryan, "is to develop and firm-up an 'Educational Model' which can be used by all of our federal correctional institutions to do a better job of meeting the basic educational needs of the disadvantaged adults that are sent to us frequently in actual or approximate illiterate conditions."

"More and more, we're finding that one of the correctional institutions' greatest rehabilitative weaknesses is their inability to do an effective job of teaching adults such basic things as reading, writing and arithmetic. How can you rehabilitate anybody who is unable to even paddle in our modern currents of communication and who is often as 'illiterate' in social ways?"

The "Educational Model" would take the form of a means-and-methods manual produced as a result of the present conference plus an earlier one conducted at the University of West Virginia, Morgantown.

Keynoters at a workshop kick-off dinner at the Center Sunday evening were Cal Poly President Robert C. Kramer and Dr. John H. Furbay, consultant on educational and cultural affairs for Trans World Airlines. The invitation list included numerous governmental, law enforcement, correctional and rehabilitation figures from this area.

Principal speaker at a luncheon adjourning the month-long program was A. Leon Higginbotham, Jr., judge of the U.S. District Court at Philadelphia, discussing "The Challenge of Adult Basic Education in Corrections."

6 solons back lower vote age

SACRAMENTO — Six Republican Assemblymen have introduced legislation which, if approved by the voters, would lower the age of adulthood in California from 21 to 19 years.

Led by Assemblyman John V. Briggs (R-Orange & San Bernardino Counties), the bills introduced by the six Republicans would amend the California Constitution and related laws to make the age of adulthood 19 years.

Joining Briggs as co-authors of this legislation were Assemblymen George W. Millias (R-Gilroy), Earle P. Crandall (R-San Jose), William Bagley (R-San Rafael), Patrick D. McGee (R-Van Nuys) and Frank Murphy, Jr. (R-Santa Cruz).

One effect of the Briggs proposal would be to lower the voting age to 19 years. The key differences between the Briggs package and earlier proposals in this area are (1) the age would be lowered to 19, not 18, and (2) the voting age could not be lowered without requiring the new voters to accept all the responsibilities of adulthood.

Briggs last year carried a bill aimed solely at lowering the voting age and testified at hearings of the Assembly Elections Committee in favor of extending the franchise to younger citizens.

"We are now dealing with the broader question of adulthood, because I don't believe we should treat young people as adults on some matters and as juveniles on others. We should not give them the right to vote without requiring that they be fully responsible for their actions," Briggs said.

"We shouldn't create special classes of citizenship," the author said. Briggs noted that 19 is a more realistic point at which to demand people act like adults and to treat them as such than either 21 or 18.

"At 18 many people are still in high school, living at home and dependent on their parents. At 19 almost everyone is out of high school. Men become eligible for the draft and many young people marry, start families, start work -- paying taxes just as adults do," Briggs said.

"The great majority of people believe that if we lower the voting age, we should also lower the age of responsibility. They see the responsibilities of adulthood as the price a citizen pays for the vote. I think by approaching the issue on this basis we enhance its chances of passing because we broaden its base of support.

broad re-examination of the starting points for adult responsibilities. This is the real question; voting is just a part of it," the lawmaker pointed out.

As a constitutional amendment, the Briggs proposal must pass the Legislature by a two-thirds margin in both houses and be approved by the voters at the November election.

"If those who want to lower just the voting age and those who oppose any lowering of the voting age will take a new look at the question from this fresh perspective, I think there is a very good chance we can get this on the ballot this year," Briggs predicted.

Supervisor Bonelli re-election bid

Frank C. Bonelli has announced his candidacy for re-election as County Supervisor of the First District. The announcement was made at a dinner in his honor in his home town of Huntington Park.

Co-hosted by the City of Huntington Park and the neighboring unincorporated community of Walnut Park, this was the seventh in a series of Appreciation Dinners for Supervisor Bonelli sponsored by civic leaders throughout the district to show their strong support for his re-election.

"It seems appropriate for me to make the official announcement of my candidacy for re-election here in Huntington Park, where my political career began as city councilman and mayor," Bonelli told some 250 people in attendance at the affair. "Since then, this area has grown faster than any other section of Los Angeles County--or of Southern California, for that matter--and that, of course, means the fastest growing area of the United States," he pointed out.

"I am proud to say that here in the First District we have set a unique example of orderly growth through the cooperation of everyone involved on all levels of government. We have coordinated the efforts of 33 cities and nine unincorporated communities, each maintaining its own identity while working for the overall development of our district. This is of particular importance today, to counter the tendency toward 'big government'." Noting that Los Angeles County is the "seventh state of the Union" in population and the fourth in governmental operations, Bonelli concluded: "There is no greater challenge in Los Angeles County to an elected official than to serve as a member of the Board of Supervisors. This is especially true in these times, when the problems are so great, and the future so dependent upon our proper course of action today."

I am deeply honored to serve as the representative of the people of the First Supervisor District.

Auto Club motorlog 52-mile scenic drive in S.D.

It is always a pleasure to write about the infinite delights found in and around San Diego. Right now, the Automobile Club of Southern California heartily recommends a 52-mile drive through the city which will give you a brief—or extended—look at some of the major scenic and historic sights for which San Diego is so well known. (By "brief" we mean to say that the motor trip around the loop can be made in two or three hours. If you really want to see everything in depth your "extended" drive could go on for days.) The first thing you'll need to do is take any of the fine freeways which run to and through San Diego; then, get onto a surface street (such as Taylor, Rosecrans or any exit to Mission Bay) and look for one of the blue and yellow signs with the white sea gull. Start your excursion at that point -- and start to enjoy yourself.

Here are just a few of the scenes and sights you'll find by following the signs.

Old Town is the small well-preserved village section where California really began as a civilized settlement. You can take a stroll through history by viewing such landmarks as Whaley House, the city's first two-story mansion; Ramona's Marriage Place, a Mexican adobe structure complete with its original furnishings, patio and fountains; and Casa de Estudillo, a perfect sight for picture-taking of Spanish gardens. Shelter Island is a man-made paradise in Polynesian setting which will make those who like water sports and boats feel right at home.

Cabrillo National Monument, at the foot of Point

Loma peninsula, is frequented by more visitors than the Statue of Liberty. The monument provides opportunities for fine views of the ocean and city.

Mission Bay Park is another spot sure to please water enthusiasts. This unusual park offers practically everything imaginable in the way of recreation and relaxation.

La Jolla, sometimes called "America's Riviera," is a charming community known for its parks, beaches, seaside cliffs and superb restaurants.

Torrey Pines State Reserve is just the place for a nature lover's solitary, meditative stroll. This is one of the very few parks in the country established as a refuge for a tree. The Torrey Pine is grotesque and picturesque in addition to being one of the rarest trees in the world.

Balboa Park and the San Diego Zoo (world's largest) are two attractions no Southern Californian should miss. Lush gardens, museums, art galleries and a fantastic collection of animals are, alone, enough to consume a full day of exciting leisure time in ever-sunny San Diego.

Unique job-skill training

A unique job-training course, believed to be the first of its kind in the nation, is under way in Sacramento, offering high school students the chance to earn at least $10,000 annually immediately after graduation.

The job: horse-shoer. The prospects: $20,000 annually after six months in the business.

The unusual course, officially titled "Farrier Training," was described by Gilbert L. Sheffield, Director of the State's Department of Human Resources Development, as a "commendable example of the kind of interagency cooperation needed in job-training programs."

Unemployment jumps sharply after holidays

January employment was at a record high for that month, but unemployment moved up sharply after the holidays, the departments of Industrial Relations and Human Resources Development of the Human Relations Agency announced.

Total civilian employment of 7,944,000 exceeded that of January, 1969, by 202,000, William C. Hern, Director of Industrial Relations, reported. This 2.6 gain indicated a slowing of the rate of growth of the State's economy.

The record January total was down 172,000 from December as severe weather added to usual seasonal cutbacks. Half the reduction was attributed to the release of temporary employees by retail stores following the Christmas rush.

Manufacturing also lost ground over the month with the continuation of the aerospace cutback—now entering its third year—and with contraction in such seasonal or outdoor industries as food, lumber, toys, apparel, and stone-clay-glass. The unusually wet January also contributed to mid-winter cuts in construction and agricultural employment.

Between this January and last, the main industries contributing to job growth were services and trade. Manufacturing employment remained below the year-ago level for the fourth month in a row, mainly as a result of losses in aircraft and ordnance.

FISH DANCE -- is performed in Padua Hills Theatre's current production, "In Musical Michoacan." Marroquin and Ruben Duran provide sample of their parts in the folk play about life on shores of Lake Patzcuaro. Play runs through Feb. 28. For further information, call (714) 626-1288.

Padua offers folk play

A bit of politics, a charming romance, and a full range of colorful songs and dances from Michoacan frame the new play at Padua Hills Theatre.

The winter production "In Musical Michoacan" is being presented now through Feb. 28 at the famous folk theatre in the hills above Claremont.

A fishing village on Lake Patzcuaro is the setting for the Mexican Players' presentation of some of the most beautiful music in Mexico.

Some of the songs and dances of Michoacan date from the period of Spanish conquest, introduced by the Franciscan fathers. Some of the songs are sung in the ancient language of the Tarascan Indians of that area.

One song was written into the play when a player who comes from Michoacan remembered it from her childhood.

Chicano director named

Armando P. Cisneros has been appointed director of the Chicano Educational Opportunities Program (EOP) at California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona.

President Robert C. Kramer announced Cisneros' appointment, saying that he will be working in the advisement, recruitment and counseling of the Colleges' Chicano EOP students.

Cisneros, 39, holds a master of arts degree in instructional systems technology from Chapman College, a bachelor of arts in history and Spanish from Los Angeles State College, and an associate arts degree from East Los Angeles Junior College.

He is a consultant-evaluator of bilingual educational proposals for the California Office of Education and an educational auditor for the United States and California offices of education.

Until his Cal Poly, Pomona appointment, he was an instructor of Spanish at Warren High School in the Downey Unified School District. He also served as district chairman of the foreign language department and was responsible for the coordination and development of foreign language among seven schools in the district.

Youths to help fight pollution

Assemblyman Pete Schabarum (R - Covina) has called upon California's politically motivated young people to be the leaders in the fight against pollution of our environment.

"Nearly three-fourths of all the potential voters in California are under 40 years old, and over one-half of those are under 30 years old," said Schabarum.

"Young people of both political parties have shown that they are concerned about the destruction of our environment. However, concern is simply not enough. It is vital that the youth of California take meaningful political action if we are to be assured of passage of the measures that are necessary to solve our environmental problems. We must have a mandate from the millions of voters who make up the younger generation."

"Although there is a lot of public support for immediate legislation to clean up the mess we've made of the environment... there is also strong special-interest opposition to virtually every good bill we in the legislative branch introduce."

Addressing the recent annual convention of the California Young Republicans in Los Angeles, Schabarum cited three conditions necessary for solving the pollution problem before it critically damages our environment.

"First, we must have the legislative and executive branches of government oriented to cleaning up the environment. That we now have.

"Secondly, we must have the scientific technology necessary to actually solve the problem. That we're rapidly attaining."

"Finally, and most important, we must have an overwhelming mandate from the people -- the voters -- to set government and private industry into high gear. This we must have immediately and convincingly from the youth of California to set the machinery in motion."

"Many elected officials are naturally hesitant to confront special interest groups head-on when it may mean facing political defeat. The nation's young people have already shown that they can be our most concerned and dynamic political force. When they act constructively and responsibly, they are our most effective political force, I'm calling on them, and on their dedicated energies, to give us the mandate we have to have."

Schabarum predicts great strides in repairing the environment "if the legislative proposals we now have are passed and implemented."

"But as far as I'm concerned, unless our responsible youth... such as the Young Republicans, the Young Democrats, the Jaycees, and dozens of other similar groups go into action immediately, the war against pollution will be a long, uphill struggle," he added.

"Within 60 days, I plan to call a meeting of the leaders of California's younger generation. This is an open invitation to all who fit that description, to let my Assembly Subcommittee know how they feel, and how their respective organizations feel about tackling this massive task."

Schabarum heads the Assembly Subcommittee on Air Pollution, which recently introduced a bipartisan package of anti-pollution legislation.

Auto Club tip

A small settlement on the South Fork of the American River in what is now El Dorado County, California, became famous overnight.

Glittering yellow particles found by John Marshall on the morning of January 24, 1848, at Coloma, according to the National Automobile Club, made it the authentic birthplace of the Gold Rush.

As the big news leaked out, the gold fever spread far and wide, drove excited, starry-eyed men to forsake their homes and embark on the hazardous journey out West. And in less than a year nearly half a million prospectors reached the Mother Lode and poked around in hopes of making their dreams come true, of finding that shiny mineral.

Modern Americans have their dreams too, not the least of which lies in reliving the glorious days of the forty-niners. That's why more than a quarter of a million persons every year visit Coloma, the most logical place for unearthing evidence of the get-rich-quick frenzy, the place where it all began.

Visit this town located on State Highway 49 between Auburn and Placerville, where you'll share the excitement with fellow motorists in discovering that little has changed since that hectic search for gold.

For the greatest thrill of all, according to NAC, walk in the footsteps of Marshall. Pick any of the marked trails in 140-acre Marshall Gold Discovery Park, excellent trails that lead you to the gold discovery site, the town's blacksmith shop, and other attractions of historical interest.

Among Coloma's buildings that have been carefully restored or rebuilt to stand as silent reminders of the past, the cabin of John Marshall holds your attention. So does the exact replica of the original Sutter's Sawmill.

Then the Coloma jail, no longer in use, gives you another sign of those times, takes you back to the frequent squabbles over claims, women, and you name it. See the old Chinese store, too, which is restored to its original stone building that dates back to 1867.

To clear up any questions you might have about Coloma at the height of its glory, advises NAC, explore the modern museum that's full of fascinating displays.

Coloma became famous overnight as the site of the Marshall gold discovery, making it an extremely popular tourist attraction of our time, one that you shouldn't miss.

Indian chief to aid opera debut

Chief Edgar Red Cloud, a great-great-grandson of Crazy Horse, one of the most illustrious chiefs of the Sioux nation, will assist in the Ontario showcase performances of "Red Cloud," the American Indian folk opera which brings to life the legends of his people.

The opera will be presented at Chaffey High school Friday and Saturday evenings, Feb. 27 and 28, with a special student-price open dress rehearsal this evening, Feb. 26, for Pomona Valley students.

Plans for participation in the opera by Tashunka Witko, grandson of the great chief who defeated Custer at Little Big Horn, were revealed by S. Earle Blakeslee, composer of the opera.

Tashunka Witko is a dancer and will help train the Indian dancers taking part in the Dance of the Virgins, the Northern Lights Ballet and other spectacular dances of the opera, Blakeslee said.

He will also join Chief Edgar Red Cloud of the Ojibwa tribe in addressing the audiences in Sioux. Chief Red Cloud is coming to Ontario from Pine Ridge, South Dakota tribal headquarters to scout the opera for the Tribal Council, of which he is a member.

Tashunka Witko, who now lives in Ontario, is married to a non-Indian and works at the Kaiser Steel mills at Fontana as a welder. His grandfather has been the hero of more story and picture books than possibly any other Indian in history.

A Polish sculptor, Korczak Ziolkowski, is currently carving a statue of Crazy Horse out of a Black Hills mountain so gigantic - 600 feet high and 600 feet long - that it will literally dwarf the heads of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln carved on Mt. Rushmore by Gutzon Borglum.

Korczak has said he is doing it to honor Crazy Horse as one of the truly great American freedom fighters.

Although tight money and high interest rates still prevail throughout the nation, Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Association continues to make loans to qualified buyers and builders. Reports reviewed by the Board of Directors at the Association's recent annual meeting showed an increase in Association construction loans over the previous year.

Paul D. Walker, Association President, said the Association is actively lending money on prime properties. More than $167 million of Association money was out on loans at the end of 1969. Assets of the Association increased nearly $12.5 million and were $195,741,615 at the end of December 1969 compared with $183,239,722 for the same period the year before, an increase of 6.8 per cent.

A net increase of over $6.7 million in savings boosted deposits to $164,768,997. Walker said Pomona First Federal showed a net gain of over $1 million in savings during the first month of 1970.

During the year 1969 interest in the amount of $8,291,472 was paid to investors. This was an increase of $572,105 over the total interest paid in 1968. Walker said the Association will continue to pay the regular pass-book five per cent interest rate during 1970 and is offering several new types of accounts which were recently authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. Five and three-fourth per cent will be paid on fixed-term accounts of one to 10 years. A rate of 7 1/2 per cent will be paid on accounts of $100,000 or more which are held for one year. A new five and one-quarter per cent three-month term bonus account is also available. These new accounts are in addition to the varied types already being offered by the Association.

Roy G. Decker, executive vice president, in predicting Association growth for the new year reported that savings would increase four and one-half per cent over 1969, loan volume would be around $20 million. Decker believes there will be only a slight increase in mortgage interest rates. Property improvement lending will double or triple 1969 levels at Pomona First Federal.

In conclusion, Walker declared, "We look forward to another good year in 1970. The board of directors greatly appreciates the support and the confidence of our many friends to whom we are able to give full service at our three offices in Pomona, and our offices in Claremont, San Dimas, Upland, Chino, Yucca Valley and Rowland Heights."

Mrs. Lamson, in the photo with Pat Walker, is now a size 10 instead of a size 16. Mrs. Lamson wrote, "I have a genuine appreciation for The Pat Walker Reducing program because it made it possible for me to become a size 10..."

Mrs. Munson, in the photo with Pat Walker, has reduced 69½ pounds, 82¾ inches to a size 12 and she is still going down. It was most embarrassing to tell my weight."

Mrs. Jones, in the photo with Pat Walker, has reduced 58 pounds, 74 inches and she is still going down. Mrs. Jones wrote "For my birthday, my husband agreed to a gift of reducing with the Pat Walker Program... not only for looks but for my health... I can see it in my Pat Walker Crystal Ball."

Mrs. Rhodes, in the photo with Pat Walker, is now a size 14 instead of a size 52. Mrs. Rhodes wrote, "The most pleasant way to reduce which could be dreamed of is what I found at the Pat Walker Salon... the new Photometric accurately measures those 'inches off' but I really don't need to be shown the results because it is such fun to not be recognized by an old acquaintance and have to tell them who you are."

Santa Ana, Calif.

Mrs. Andrejko is a distribution clerk at the Post Office and weighed 188¼ pounds. Mrs. Andrejko wrote, "I decided to lose weight when I went shopping for a dress for my 20th Anniversary... I came home without one because I couldn't find anything that fit... I decided on your program because I liked the privacy and no disrobing... it was very relaxing especially after working."

Mrs. Andrejko, in the photo with Pat Walker, has reduced 57½ pounds, 60½ inches and she is still going down. Mrs. Andrejko wrote, "Since I have lost weight I am a different person... I am thinner now than I was when I met my husband... my husband and children think I look younger... still the Photometric is wonderful because it showed in black and white where I needed to lose and how I was progressing."

For The Woman With Everything... But A Perfect Figure

The ideally proportioned figure thought only to exist in sculptures created by master artists can be yours. The ageless image of a youthful, lithe body can be yours through the means of relaxing passive program of perfecting the figure. This process, achieved without rigid diet, without medication or without disrobing, has transformed the lives of over five million women internationally. Nothing can equal the self-assurance of knowing yours is the perfect figure — so unrevealing in composition and movement not even your most discerning critic can guess how old you really are. Yours can be the eternally ageless look which turns the heads of college men and graying executives alike. The mystery and charm of the mature woman will still be yours coupled with the aura of an ideal figure free of tell-tale flabby excess flesh or dowager's hump that announce the year you were born.

FIRM PERFECT FIGURE

This revolutionary principle of figure perfection is rational, simple and safe. It produces results without risk or disappointment. More important, you can retain your firm, perfect figure knowing full well this new you is what you always should have been. Women in their 60s and 70s now are enjoying the fruits of this program.

PICTURE OF BEAUTY

This is a program based upon stimulating circulation and toning tissues as they were intended. Suddenly, your posture will be enhanced, friends will comment over your stance and carriage in response to your improved posture — a condition so necessary to your being the picture of beauty inside as well as out.

Within 10 days you will notice results if you follow a routine of inexpensive half-hour treatments conducted in restful, beautifully appointed surroundings offering the ultimate in privacy. You will see upper arms and thighs firm, your abdomen diminish, curves appear which you had forgotten you possessed.

NEVER EQUALLED

Your transformation will be carried out by a program and computerized equipment often copied but never equalled for achieving lasting results. All the while you are secure in the knowledge your reducing process is carried out by scientific equipment which is the end-product of many years research and investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars and the only complete program in the world which eliminates the guesswork in figure correction. You will rest in complete confidence as a computerized unit silently concentrates on fatty tissue, muscle toning, circulation, posture correction AND those dormant muscles which haven't performed for months, years — perhaps never.

INDIVIDUALLY PROGRAMMED

Best of all, your figure problems will be studied and programmed individually to correct YOUR specific needs as no two women are alike. A confidential dossier of your weight and measurements will be prepared under the direction of the only internationally recognized reducing authority in the world with more than 18 years in figure perfection. GUARANTEED RESULTS You will be assured of no involvement with here-today, gone-tomorrow reducing companies. Yours will be a personalized program guaranteeing a perfect figure based upon your bone structure. You are invited to have a free figure analysis and trial treatment without obligation. Guaranteed results.

WECCS appeals cancellation of WEUF support

The West End Council of Community Services has appealed a withdrawal of support from the West End United Fund, and the appeal was scheduled to be heard today at 4:30 p.m. at the Ontario YMCA building.

WEUF officials terminated WECCS as a member agency of the United Fund Jan. 22. As a result, WECCS appealed to the executive committee of the West End United Fund.

WECCS was designed to encourage joint planning among private and public organizations providing health, recreation and welfare services in West End communities.

Glass-blowing

Two glass-blowers, George and Bob Heilig, will give a free demonstration of their craft this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Upland Kiosk, Second Avenue and Ninth Street, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The demonstration will be provided in conjunction with White Tag Days in Upland. Bob Heilig is a student at Fullerton Junior College. George is a student at Cerritos College in Norwalk.

Bill to aid victims of criminals

A bill encouraging citizens to resist crime and come to the aid of others has been introduced into the State Senate by Senator Bill Coombs, R-Rialto.

Senate Bill 345 will amend the Penal Code if it passes both houses of the legislature, and first must be heard by the Senate Judiciary Committee in late March.

Ever since Kitty Genovese' neighbors watched her get murdered rather than get involved, there has been a growing problem of litigation against the victim, pointed out Senator Coombs.

Senator Coombs referred to a recent case where an Iowa farmer had shot a thief while he was robbing their home. The burglar was convicted and fined $50. He then sued the farmer and won a judgement for $30,000 plus $5,000 in court costs.

The Iowa farmer had to sell his home, his 80 acre farm and go into debt to pay the judgment.

"Incredible as it seems there has in recent years, been a growing tendency for the wrongdoer to sue his victim if that victim should be so bold as to fight back," the Senator continued.

tional Tourney, Mike Higelin and Mike Castellini turned around and beat Bishop Amat again in the finals. Damien captured first in dramatic interpretation, took fourth in extemporaneous and topped the weekend off with Castellini taking second best speaker at the tournament. Higelin tied for fourth best speaker, and the squad took third in sweepstakes as a unit.

The all-freshmen team ranked first in the sweepstakes in the tournament held in Coachella Valley High School championship for first year non-Senior debaters.

Ed Deason and Nick Raymond took second place. Jim Carmicino and Tom Driscoll took third in the consolation round. Joe Altmanshofer and Greg Marsey were second in Consolations. Damien had 26 points in sweepstakes, and Redlands came in 2nd at 18 points.

It looks like 1970 is going to be a big year for Damien's Varsity Speech squad, under the direction of Father Martin O'Leighen. After its victory at U.S.C., where the group took debate and sweepstakes, it was thought it would be impossible to move much higher but the debaters did.

Plan campsite choice early

SACRAMENTO --Some tips that might help you get a state park campsite for your next vacation were given by William Penn Mott Jr., Director of the California Department of Parks and Recreation.

The tips came after a careful analysis of occupancy rates at state park campgrounds during the period May through October, 1969.

The figures show that occupancy is highest in August, with 94 per cent for Class A campsites, 70 per cent for Class B, 65 per cent for Class C, and 83 per cent for trailer campsites.

"When you take out the desert campsites, which are not heavily used in the hot summer months, you have almost 100 per cent occupancy at the other parks during August," Mott said.

July ran second in rate of occupancy, with 82 per cent for Class A, 58 per cent for Class B, 50 per cent for Class C, and 81 per cent for trailer campsites. June ranked third, with September running a close fourth.

In May and October, as well as during the rest of the year, there seems to be plenty of room for campers in most parks, except for some southern California beach parks which can fill up at any time of year.

"The first tip is to plan your vacation for some month other than August," Mott said. "July is slightly better, and June and September are much better. During the rest of the year, you are almost certain to get into a state park campground."

Another tip is to plan weekday camping, Mott said, because while the weekends almost always see full campgrounds, the Monday to Friday period offers a little extra opportunity to get into a campground.

A third tip is to try Class B or Class C camping when Class A is filled. "The park esthetic values are exactly the same," Mott said, "and although Class B and Class C campgrounds may not have as many facilities as Class A accommodations, all the necessities for an enjoyable camping experience are available at all campgrounds, regardless of the class."

Mott said that heavy pressures on park facilities led to the initiation of the reservation system in 1968. During the report period, May-October of 1969, the Department recorded 141,764 carloads of people were turned away from camping parks because they were filled. "This is only a fraction of the actual number, because the practice is to close the gate and hang up a sign that the park is filled. So we know many more people were turned away than were counted."

"Just think of what a fantastic turnaway figure we'd have if we didn't have reservations," Mott asserted.

Mott pointed out further that the new computerized reservation system will enable the park visitor to take full advantage of available park facilities.

"By going to a computer center, the park visitor can select another park, if the first choice is filled. If the weekend is filled, he can try for weekday camping. And if Class A facilities are filled, he can try for B or C. This can be done in a few moments, and if the camper finds something he wants, he can pay his fees and leave with his reservation and his tickets. If he can't find anything that fits his plans and needs, he can make other vacation arrangements. He does not have to sit in a line for hours or days only to find he can't get into the campground. That is what happened before we started reservations."

Mott pointed out that vacationers still could go to a campground and take a chance on getting in without a reservation. The reservation system merely gives the camper an opportunity to avoid the disappointment of not being able to get into the park or camp.

Mott said he did not believe the computerized reservations system was the perfect answer for campers, "because there is no perfect answer to any problem these days. But I honestly feel that the computerized reservation system is the best and most economical service we can perform for the public at this time. When and if we find something better, we'll certainly try to implement it."

California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona President Robert C. Kramer announced the retirement of School of Agriculture Dean Carl R. Englund. Dr. Kramer said Englund's retirement will be effective October 1 of this year.

In making the announcement, Kramer said, "We regret deeply Dean Englund's decision to leave the College, but feel the opportunities now open to him in industry speak well of the Cal Poly type of administrator and teacher."

Englund 55, who has been dean of the Cal Poly, Pomona School of Agriculture for 18 years, is ending his career as college administrator to begin another, working for FMC Corporation, International, headquartered in San Jose.

"I have always felt that change is an essential to my life," he said. "I don't care for the term 'retirement,' because what I am really doing is beginning anew."

Once on the FMC staff,

Englund will primarily be supervising the corporation's technical staff in overseas agricultural development projects. He will also be involved in the development of new contract negotiations.

Englund worked for FMC, International previously during the summer of 1965 when the corporation sent him to Saudi Arabia. He also took a year's leave of absence from Cal Poly in 1968-69 to work for the firm principally in Iran but also in Kuwait, Turkey, and Yugoslavia.

CYA admissions continue decline

SACRAMENTO -- Admissions to California Youth Authority institutions declined in 1969 for an unprecedented fourth successive year. It was announced today by Allen F. Breed, director of the CYA.

A total of 4,493 youthful offenders were admitted to Youth Authority institutions for their first time in 1969, a decrease of 4.2 per cent from the 4,689 first admissions in 1968.

First admissions have been declining every year since 1965, when an all-time peak of 6,174 was registered. The total in 1966 dropped to 5,458, and to 4,994 in 1967.

Breed credited several Youth Authority treatment and subsidy programs for reversing the trend of constantly increasing populations.

The probation subsidy program has been particularly effective. During the first three years of the program-- July 1, 1966, to June 30, 1969, expected commitments to state juvenile institutions and prisons were reduced by 7,133 and the counties earned $29 million in state subsidies.

Under the program, the state pays a subsidy to the counties for reducing their levels of commitments, with the money to be used for improving and intensifying probation services.

The Youth Authority's community treatment programs also have played a part in reducing commitments. Breed said, Research has shown that community treatment is frequently far more effective than institutionalization in rehabilitating youthful offenders. These programs have reduced the pressure to build new institutions, which require an initial investment of millions of dollars and where the cost of maintaining a ward is comparatively high.

Additional statistics for 1969:

--As of Dec. 31, there were 20,599 wards under commitment to the CYA-- including those in institutions and on parole. This is 3 per cent lower than the 21,233 wards under commitment as of Dec. 31, 1968.

--The number of parole violators returned to CYA institutions decreased from 3,881 in 1968 to 3,535, a drop of 5.5 per cent.

--Total institutional population at the end of 1969 was 5,908, down 6.5 per cent from the previous year.

California tax forms

California personal income tax instruction booklets and forms have been mailed to almost six million taxpayers, according to the Franchise Tax Board.

Most residents receive the instruction booklet, containing Form 540, supporting schedules and related instructions. The State's card-size Form 540A, like the Federal Form 1040A, has been discontinued.

Taxpayers who moved since the last filing date will not receive forms through the mail, according to Martin Huff, Executive Officer of the Franchise Tax Board.

Anyone who didn't receive forms by Feb. 15 should pick them up at one of the 4,800 public distribution points throughout the state.

Forms are available through banks, chambers of commerce, US post offices, and offices of the State Board of Equalization, State Department of Employment and Department of Motor Vehicles. They also may be obtained from any office of this department or by writing to the Franchise Tax Board, 1025 P Street, Sacramento, 95814.

4 officials promoted by PFF

The promotion of four officials to the position of Assistant Vice President has been announced by Paul D. Walker, President of Pomona First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The Board of Directors at its recent annual meeting approved the appointments of Margaret H. Kramp, Wilfred H. Chalton, Donald L. Mead and David C. Huckaby.

Mrs. Kramp, who has been with the Association for 28 years, was previously Internal Auditor and was Assistant Manager of the Upland Office. She is a graduate of Eagle Rock High School and attended Pasadena City College. She holds 3-year, 5-year and 8-year graduate diplomas from the American Savings and Loan Institute. She is a charter member of Rancho San Jose Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West. She has held several offices in the Parlor, including President, and Past President, and has served as District Deputy Supervisor.

Mrs. Kramp is a member of the Soroptimist Club of Pomona and has held the offices of President, Treasurer, Direc-

Services combine recruiting

The U.S. Navy recruiting stations in Ontario and in Pomona have moved to a new location. The location is at 10665 Mills Ave., Montclair. The new office, just east of Sears on South Mills, is ideally located with good parking facilities, and in the center of the main population areas.

The new office complex has double the quota to meet as compared with their older individual stations, so there are lots of immediate openings. The openings include those for the new 180 day delay program, for young men still in their senior year of high school, graduating in June.

Also at the new location will be the U.S. Army, Marine Corps and Air Force Recruiters, all under one roof.

tor, First Vice President and Delegate. She has been a member of the Regional Finance Committee and Co-Chairman of the Regional Extension Committee of the Soroptimist Clubs of America. She has been active in United Crusade and Red Cross Fund raising drives. Mrs. Kramp is listed in the Third and Fourth Editions of "Who's Who of American Women." Her son, David, is a teacher at Huntington Beach.

Chalton has been a resident of the Pomona Valley since 1926. He is a graduate of Pomona High School, Thorne Business College and the American Savings and Loan Institute Graduate School at Indiana University. He is a member of the Pomona Y's Men's Club and Pomona Valley Historical Society. He serves as a member of the Board of Directors of the Pomona Valley YMCA, the Mt. San Antonio Council of the Campfire Girls, and the local chapter of the Building Industry Association. He and his wife, Pauline, reside in Claremont and are the parents of two daughters, Sandra Chalton and Donna Neumann.

Chalton has been with Pomona First Federal since 1967.

Mead was Assistant Manager of the Loan Service and Property Management Division before his promotion. He has been with the Association for three years and has lived in Pomona Valley for 34 years. He graduated from Pomona High School and attended Southwestern University in Texas. He holds a standard diploma from the American Savings and Loan Institute. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club of Pomona and has served on YMCA membership drives, Boy Scout and United Crusade fund raising campaigns. Mead and his wife, Jaunese, and their three children Dave, Dan and Carolyn live in Pomona.

Huckaby is a graduate of Colton Union High School and Long Beach City College. He has a standard diploma from the American Savings and Loan Institute. He was a Branch Management Trainee and Junior Loan Officer before his promotion.

motion. He is a director of the Rowland Heights Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Walnut Valley Chamber of Commerce.

Huckaby is treasurer of the Pomona Jaycees and at their Annual Distinguished Service Award banquet in January was presented a Key Man Award. He is a sponsor of a Boy Scouts Explorers Specialty Post in Banking and Finance, and a sponsor of a Little League Team. Huckaby and his wife, Carol, reside in Pomona with their two daughters, Denise and Tracey Lynn. He has been with Pomona First Federal for three years.

Direct vote asked by women's unit

The League of Women Voters of the U.S. has announced a new national position in favor of a Constitutional amendment for the direct popular election of the President and Vice President of the United States, and the abolishment of the Electoral College system. The League position also contains a recommendation for a run-off election in the event no candidate receives more than 40 percent of the votes cast.

League President Mrs. Bruce B. Benson, Amherst, Mass., stated: "Of over 1000 local Leagues registering an opinion in the consensus-making process, 78 percent were in support of the direct election method. Only four Leagues favored retaining the present system."

The League of Women Voters of West San Bernardino County went on record in favor of the direct election method, according to Mrs. Ned Carter, Chino, president. The local League's study of the Electoral College was conducted by Mmes. Fred J. Darms, Jr. and Robert Hempy of Upland.
